

Mystery in the Valley . . . .

Elaine Flinn: Antiques can be Murder

Thursday July 13 at 7p

Ashland Public Library Gresham Street

Saturday July 15 at 2p Barnes & Noble

All welcome

Elaine Flinn's Molly Doyle series is set in upscale Carmel, where Molly begins to rebuild her life after her husband ruins her New York reputation and runs off with the restorer he scammed and schemed with. Yes, Molly's on the up and up, putting her experience, connections and nose for that hidden treasure back to work in California. Instead of Sotheby and Christies, Molly's checking out yard sales and flea markets and getting into trouble over dead bodies and odd antiques. Flinn's mysteries are well written and a good fast read -- they are well plotted, complex and intricate with lots of antique lore and inside scoops to keep you learning about the merch and loving the biz throughout the book. Also published by Avon are Tagged for Murder (2004) and Deadly Collections (2005).

Flinn's experience in the business really shows -- she was an antiques dealer in San Francisco for many years before trading treasures for mystery. She now lives on the Monterey Peninsula where she is hard at work on the next Molly Doyle mystery. For more information, www.elaineflinn.com -- and on Thursday July 13th!

Sponsored by the Ashland Mystery Readers Group, Friends of the Ashland Public Library and Keller Williams Realty of Southern Oregon

maureen@booksandoldlace.com 541-552-0743 www.booksandoldlace.com/rvtvnoir, Wednesdays at 7:30p AFN ch 95; Charter ch 31