

Mystery in the Valley.....

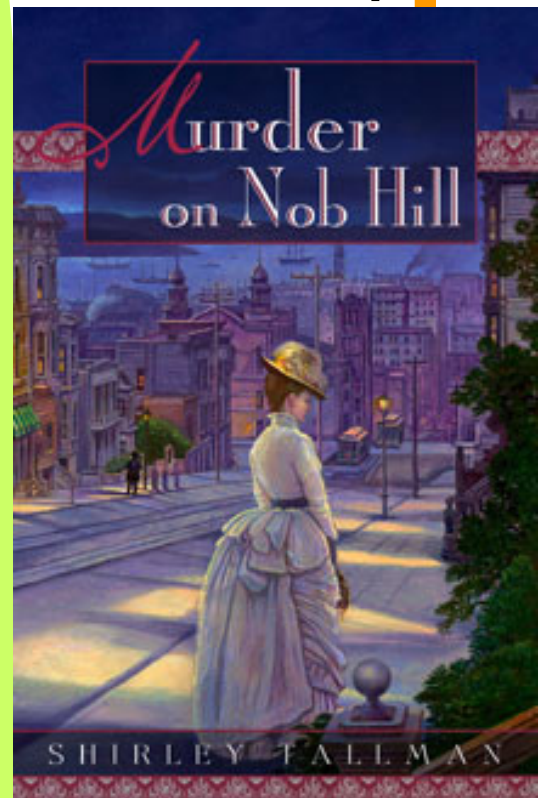

Shirley Tallman Historical Mysteries Set in San Francisco

Thursday Nov 10th 7p
Ashland Public Library

Screenwriter Shirley Tallman has turned to mysteries and is on tour with The Russian Hill Murders, an historical set in 1881 San Francisco about gutsy young attorney Sarah Woolson, published in 2005 by St. Martin's Minotaur. The outspoken young lawyer flouts proper feminine behavior in this historical mystery series, the 19th century answer to "Legally Blonde."

Publisher's Weekly says, "Credible characters, cleverly subtle clues and a highly satisfying conclusion mark this intriguing tale as a superior example of its genre. Fans of nineteenth-century sleuths like those of Anne Perry and Miriam Grace Monfredo will be well satisfied."

All welcome

Sponsored by the Ashland Mystery Readers Group, Friends of the Ashland Public Library, Keller Williams Realty and Bloomsbury Books: mystery authors and books on 2d Thursdays maureen@booksandoldlace.com 541-552-0743 www.booksandoldlace.com/
Ashland Mystery rvtv noir, Wednesdays at 7:30p AFN ch 95; Charter ch 31